ME AND MY MUSIC

Sitting here, talking about of my inner self telling the stories behind the stories close your eyes, hear words, the sound and the melody want to give my soul wings to fly

Oh me, oh me and my music
like an old Inuit talks about love about pain about goodness and badness
about happiness and sadness
Oh me, oh me and my music

I'm not a leader, master or a prophet I'm a man think about life, about the world sing about feelings and the colours of my soul I'm happy if I touch your soul and give feelings a name

Oh me, oh me and my music
like an old Inuit talks about love about pain
about goodness and badness
about happiness and sadness
Oh me, oh me and my music

Oh me, oh me and my music
like an old Inuit talks about love about pain
about goodness and badness about all the things we need

Oh me, oh me and my music

RAIN IN PARIS

The people on Champs-Élysées fleeing under the rooftops of the bars and cafés and into the label shops.

The windowshopper takes a little break and the sellers take a deep breath and running to the rain refugees.

The disaster of one is the happiness of another.

R: There's rain, there's rain in Paris

The white the Arc de triumph, Notre-Dame or Sacré-Cœur, goes greyer as normal

The Eifel-tower looks like a lighthouse in the wild sea, and the "Jardin" is really a landing strip.
And the traffic roundabout goes slower than usual,

R: There's rain, there's rain in Paris

La Samaritan is closed, the tourist's clogging the pores of the city and the most beautiful houseboats are gone.

The rain the tears of the old town and anger upon the hills and my view will be clear

R: Paris is more than a romantic thought of our minds

R: There's rain, there's rain in Paris

HIGH HEEL HOUSES

Sunrise in the east, reflecting in the mirror of the windows takes thousand suns in the tales of streets.

Billions of people swelling out of the ground, flocking to the mountains of glass into the ...

R: High heel houses, high heel houses, high heel houses

Inside running ants with best clothes, sweat from here to there money turns and turns and burns away.

The owner will cry but it never comes back and the women swing with their high heels in the...

R: High heel houses, high heel houses, high heel houses

The scenario will be pretty, I want laugh!

But the laugh will stick in your gap.

If you know the names and numbers they talk about they are persons with real life, of flesh and blood

In the...

R: High heel houses, high heel houses, high heel houses

HEART OF THE WARRIOR

Some call me killer some call me a hero
Some say I'm a monster without heart But I'm a man doing my job best as I can And bring my order to an end.

But deep in my heart feel the peace
Love the family and the friends, too
And the Ones I've left behind
And the Ones I've left behind

Fight for my believe, glory and respect Fight for freedom and for peace, and for democracy and the rights of all But also for everyone who pays the bill.

But deep in my heart feel the peace
Love the family and the friends, too
And the Ones I've left behind
And the Ones I've left behind

I'm the warrior of the past fighting in the jungle I'm the warrior of the present fighting in the desert I'm warrior of the future fighting on a godless planet at the end of the universe.

But deep in my heart feel the peace
Love the family and the friends, too
And the Ones I've left behind
And the Ones I've left behind

WUNDERMÄDCHEN (FÜR FRIEDA)

Kamst aus einem Desaster aus Tränen und Schlamm, einem Gebilde aus Lügen und Unverstand.

Und 'nem Mann der im Bergwerk um sein Leben bangt Und immer ein Auge auf die Kinder, die in den Trümmern des Krieges ihre Kreise zieh'n.

Du gabst ihnen Hoffnung wenn keiner an sie glaubte
du gabst ihnen Liebe wenn keiner sie mehr liebte.

Du warst ihr Wundermädchen

Die harte Arbeit auf dem Boden, zerschunden nicht nur Knie, Das Geld war rar, das Essen nie genug Manche deiner Töchter fanden nie den richtigen Mann und Dein Liebster starb bevor er das Leben mit dir genießen konnt.

Du gabst ihnen Hoffnung wenn keiner an sie glaubte
du gabst ihnen Liebe wenn keiner sie mehr liebte.

Du warst ihr Wundermädchen

Plötzlich war er da, hilflos, schutzlos und vaterlos in einer fremden Welt gabst ihm ein Zuhause, ein Nest zum wachsen den Glauben zu kämpfen in feindlichen Terrain

Du gabst ihm Hoffnung wenn keiner an ihn glaubte du gabst ihm Liebe wenn keiner ihn mehr liebte.

Du warst sein Wundermädchen

SUNDAY PARADISE

Sun twinkly on my skin, , the dust dancing on the sun line.

And you sleeping like an angle beside me, your deep presence brings me down

... ... Sunday paradise, Sunday paradise,

The kids are on their way, all is quiet and the churchbell nearby rings.

And you sleeping like an angle beside me, your
deep presence brings me down

... ... Sunday paradise, Sunday paradise,

LEAVE ME ALONE

sitting around a table and they're talking all the heades are burning, nobody knows everybody wants to talk but no one wants to hear

leave me alone
get out of my brain
leave me alone, leave me alone

going away from this place, going into the city all the people are so busy and they're running around nobody hears someone, nobody sees someone and the newspapers declare a new war

leave me alone,
get out of my brain
leave me alone, leave me alone

going away from this place, going into the fields going into the forest, give me alltime peace but the wind tells me a story about the leaves:
oh, I'm dying everyday and nobody hears my cry please, leave me alone, get out of my leaves

leave me alone, leave me alone

HEIMAT IST

Mein Sohn kam zu mir und fragte:

"Warum liebst du unser Land nicht so wie ich, hast du keinen Stolz und keine Heimatgefühle?"

Wir saßen zusammen und sprachen darüber als mein Herz begann zu schrein.

Heimat ist, wo mein Herz ist und

Mein Herz ist wo meine Liebe wohnt.

Kein Land, keine Flagge, noch Religion oder Politik,

Kann sagen wo meine Heimat ist.

Allein mein Herz erzählt mir, wo ich geh' und wo ich steh'.

Mag sein, es ist die Geschichte dieses Landes, mag sein meine eigene, die Vaterlosigkeit oder die Ehe meines Alters.

Komme aus einer trauen Zeit, steige in einem seltsamen Licht, mit tausend confusen Gedanken in meinem Kopf, denn.

Heimat ist, wo mein Herz ist, und mein Herz ist, wo meine Liebe wohnt.

Kein Land, keine Flagge, noch Religion oder Politik

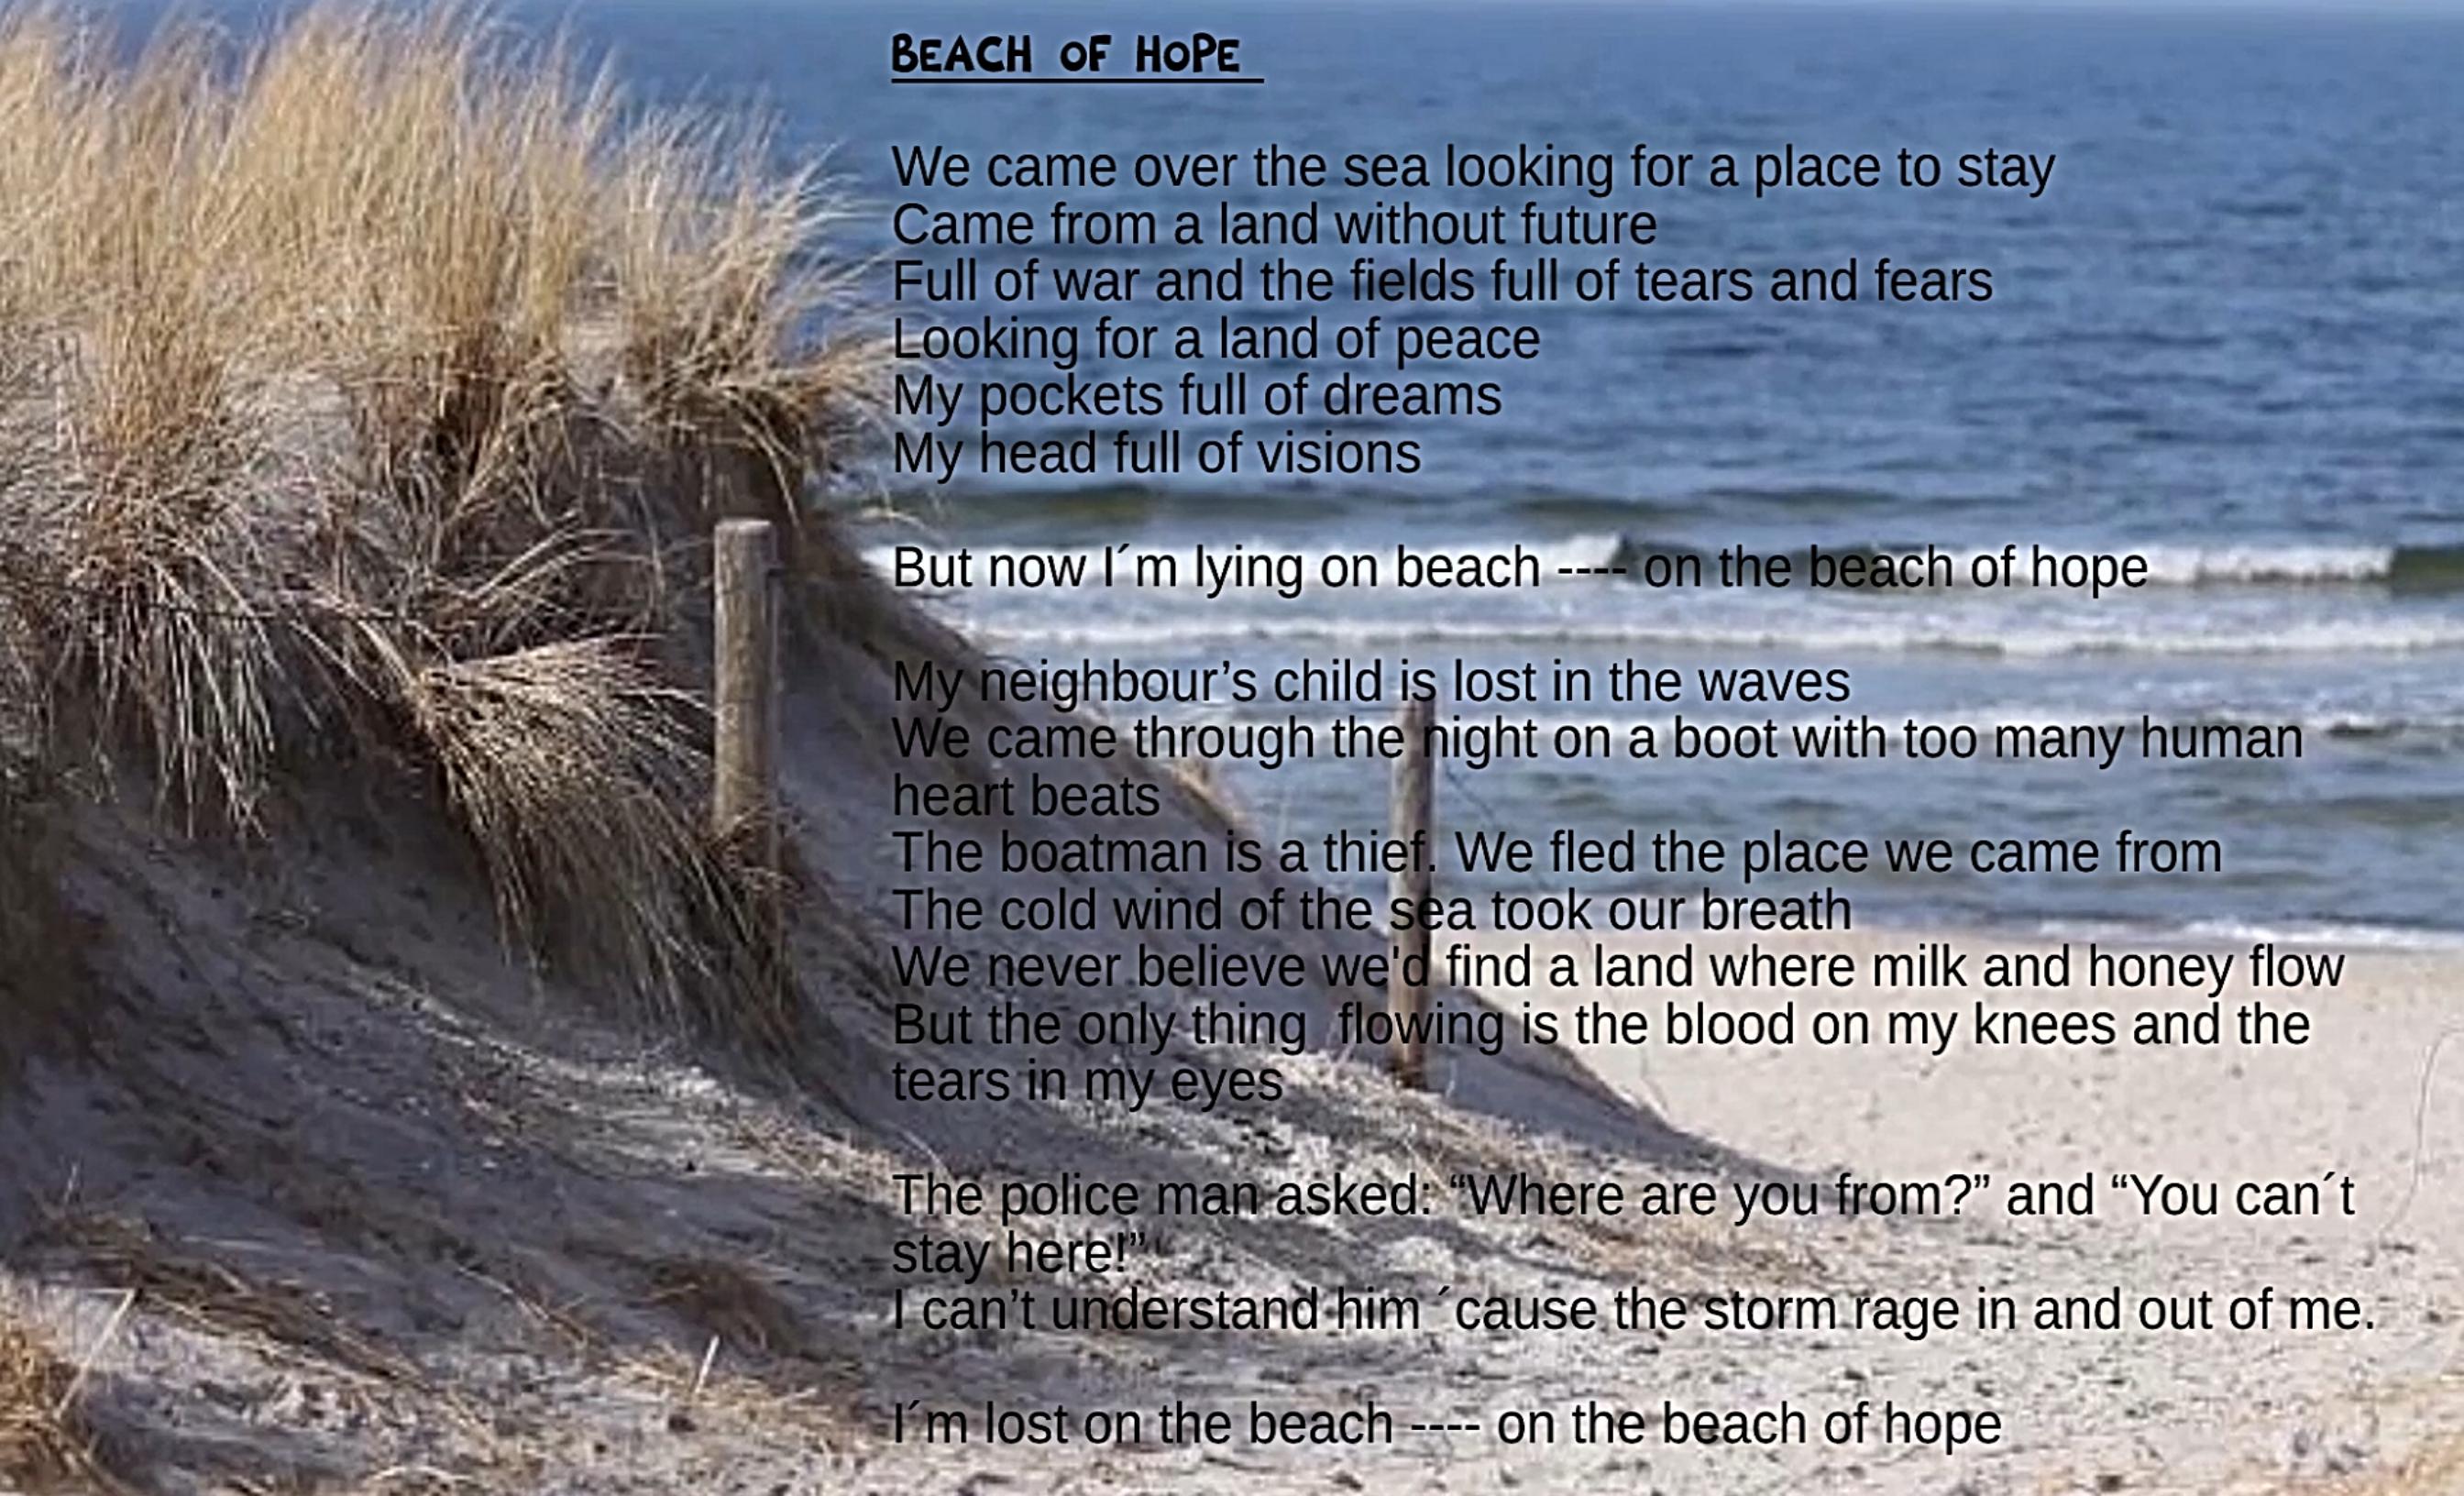

kann sagen wo meine Heimat ist.

Allein mein Herz erzählt mir, wo ich geh' und wo ich steh'.

A photograph of a sandy beach. In the foreground, there is a dense patch of tall, dry, golden-brown grass. Behind the grass, the sandy beach slopes down towards the ocean. The ocean waves are visible in the background, crashing onto the shore. The sky above the water is clear and blue.

BEACH oF HoPE

We came over the sea looking for a place to stay Came from a land without future
Full of war and the fields full of tears and fears Looking for a land of peace
My pockets full of dreams
My head full of visions

But now I'm lying on beach ---- on the beach of hope

My neighbour's child is lost in the waves We came through the night on a boot with too many human heart beats
The boatman is a thief. We fled the place we came from The cold wind of the sea took our breath
We never believe we'd find a land where milk and honey flow But the only thing flowing is the blood on my knees and the tears in my eyes

The police man asked: "Where are you from?" and "You can't stay here!"
I can't understand him 'cause the storm rage in and out of me.

I'm lost on the beach ---- on the beach of hope
